Dear Mr. Wilson:

Regarding your letter March 22, 1988 in reference to ordinances governing railroad train whistle and noise prohibition, the city of Miami does have such an ordinance. The ordinance is titled Public Nuisance, section (c) 21-27.3.

The ordinance prohibits trains whistles and noise from 10:00 p.m.-6:00 a.m. The municipality, county or city is responsible for displaying signs prohibiting such noise. I suggest you contact your local public officials on establishing such an ordinance.

I hope this information will assist you.

Sincerely,

Felicia S. Greene
Director/Public Affairs
